

Written by: Nicole Muir.

Illustrations: Art by Irasutoya and Nitish Ramesh arranged by Aysha Imtiaz.

We are going to town. What will we see?

On our way, we see farmers working in their fields.

We see mailmen making special deliveries.

We are going to town. What do we see?

We see construction workers building a house!

We see crossing guards helping everyone cross the road safely.

We are going to town. What do we see?

We see bakers selling cookies in the market square.

We see the police keeping our town safe!

We are going to town. What do we see?

We see schools closing for the winter break.

We see farmers selling food at the market.

We are going into town. What do we see?

We see a library full of books for cozy night stories.

We see a busy recycling center with workers sorting out old things.

We are going into town. What do we see?

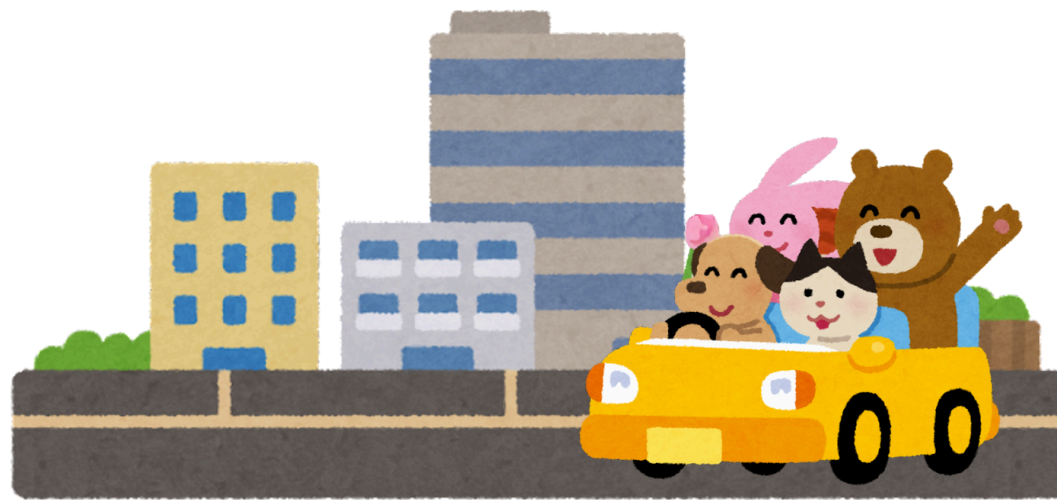

We see everyone buying flowers for their loved ones.

We see people traveling to go see their families.

Our town is full of people who help us every day.
What will you build in your town?

I♥STEMTaught®