

Describe your rocks.

Example: I have three rocks. One is red and two are gray. The red rock looks like it is made of sand. The others feel chalky. One is kind of smooth and one is rough.

Draw your rock.

Example: use the microscopes or magnifying glasses so the students can observe the tiny pieces that make up their rocks. Let them use their tools (microscopes or hand lenses) to draw an interesting part of their sample.