Dear Parent,

Is it okay to read the same books over and over to your child? Yes! Reading the same books over and over allows children to predict elements of the story and learn through repetition.

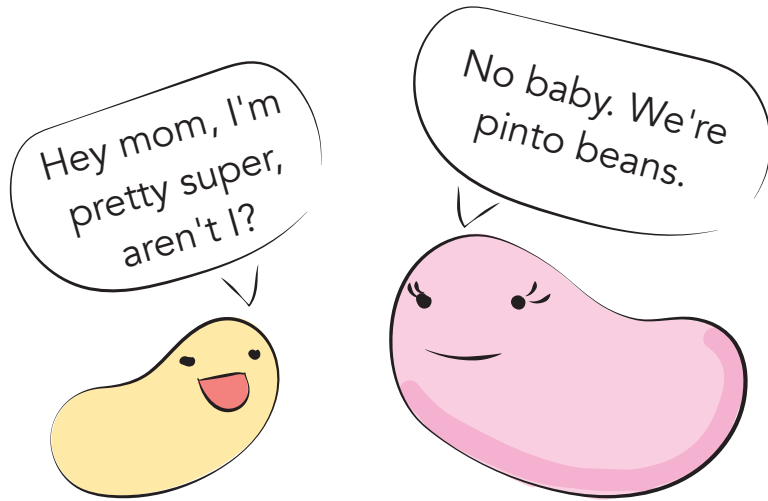

Aloha,

Beth and Jake

Había una vez una semilla llamada Soupy.
Soupy era simplemente un simple frijol pinto.

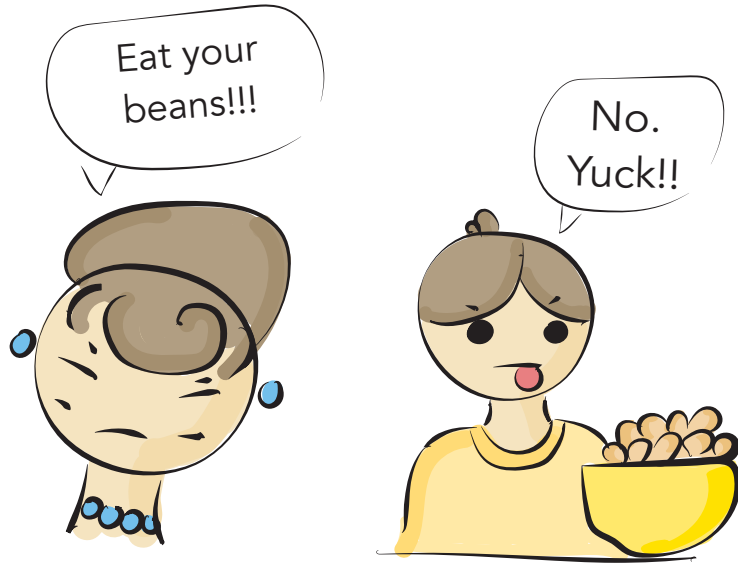

Once upon a time there was a seed named Soupy.
Soupy was just a plain pinto bean.

Soupy no quería ser un simple frijol pinto.
¡Soupy quería ser una súper semilla!

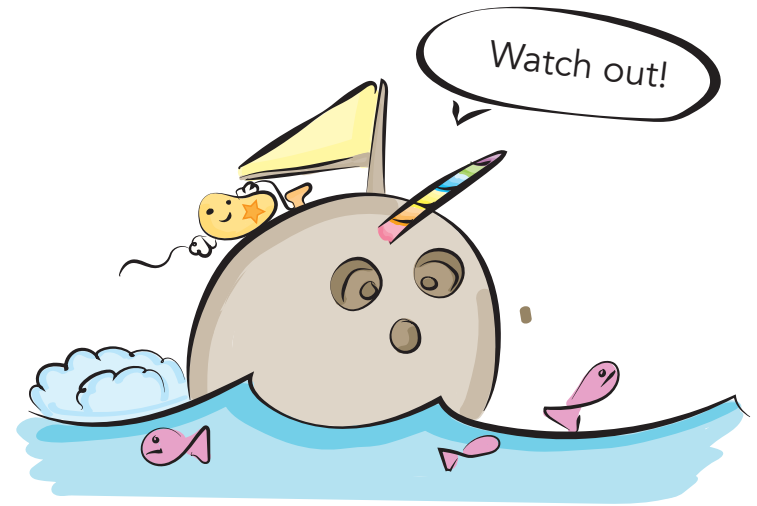

Soupy didn't want to be a plain pinto bean. Soupy wanted to be a super seed!

Los frijoles pintos no saben tan bien como las donas en polvo, ¿verdad?

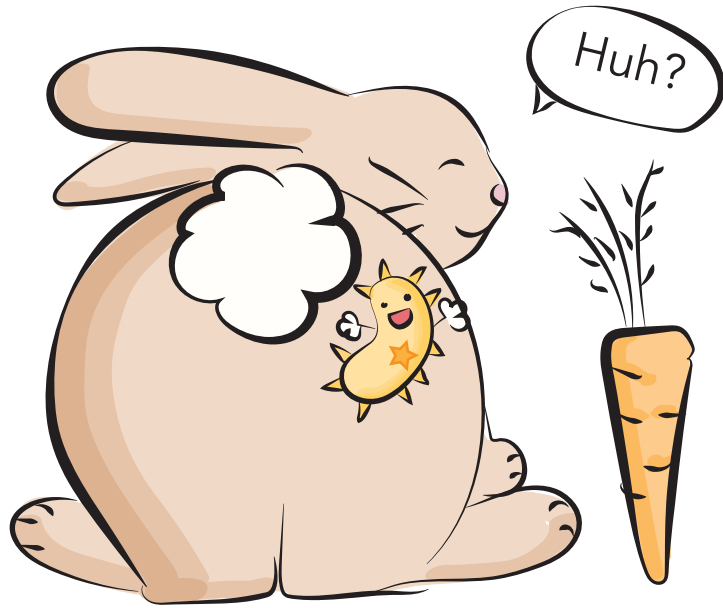

Pinto beans do not taste as good as powdered donuts, do they?

¡Soupy no se quedó sentado sintiéndose mal!
Soupy aprendió a viajar sobre el agua.

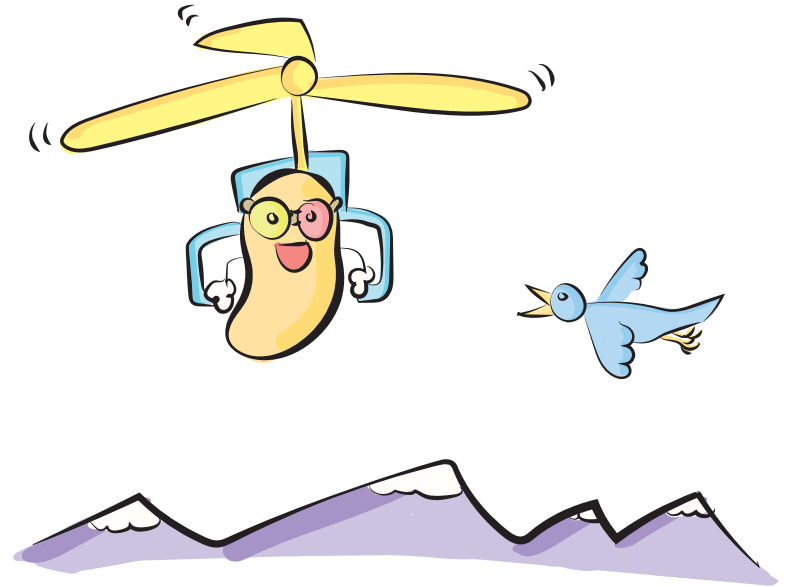

Soupy didn't just sit around feeling bad! Soupy learned how to travel on water.

Soupy aprendió a montar animales.

Soupy learned how to hitch a ride on animals.

Soupy aprendió a volar por el aire.

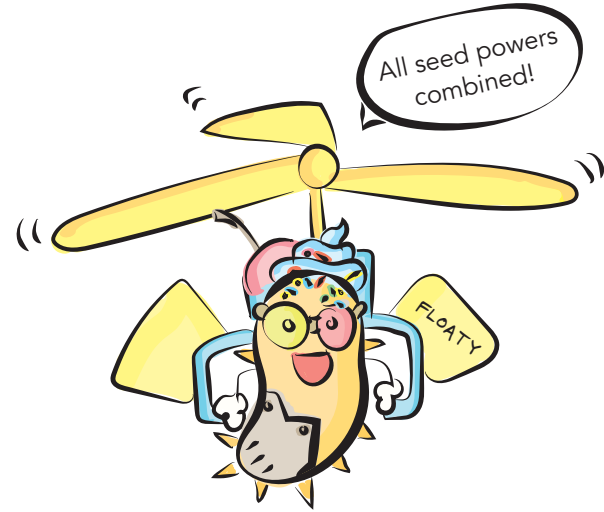

Soupy learned how to fly through the air.

Soupy consiguió una armadura para protegerse si se lo comían. También consiguió chispas para que supiera bien.

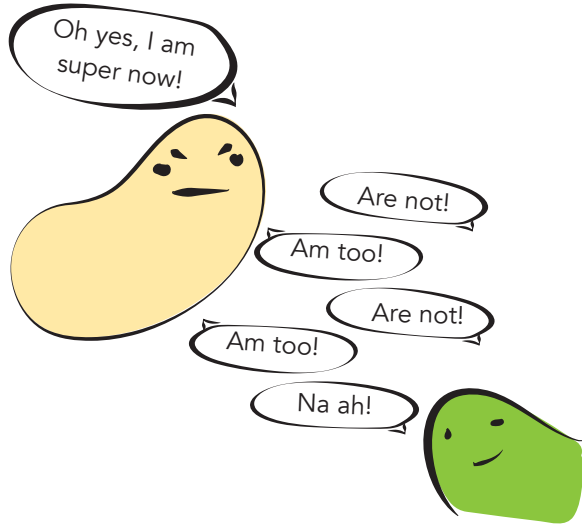

Soupy got armor to protect himself if he was eaten. He got sprinkles to make himself taste good too.

Ahora bien, Soupy no era sólo un frijol pinto cualquiera. ¡Tenía superpoderes que le ayudaban a viajar a cualquier lugar!

Now Soupy wasn't just an ordinary pinto bean. He had super powers to help him travel just about anywhere!

Soupy fue realmente genial. ¡Ahora Super Seed dedicaría el resto de su vida a vivir aventuras!

Soupy was really super. Now Super Seed would dedicate the rest of his life to going on adventures!

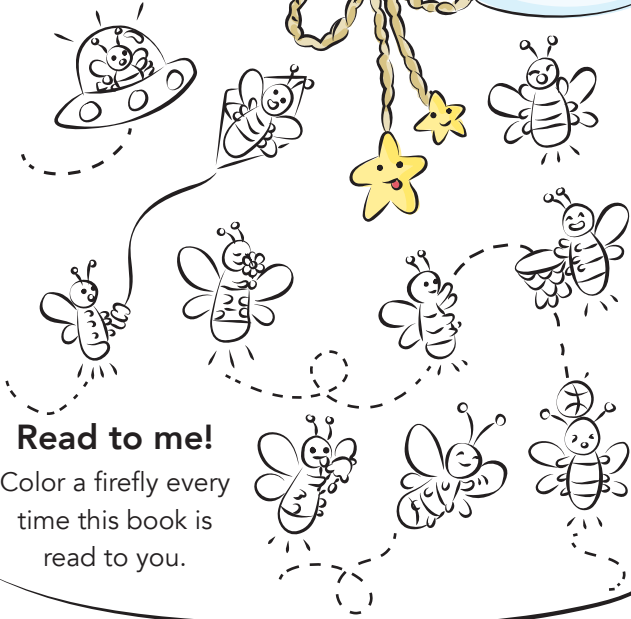

Espera... ¿A dónde fue ese conejo?
¿Recordar? Soupy todavía no puede caminar.
Necesita hacer autostop en un animal.

Wait... Where did that rabbit go?
Remember? Soupy still can't walk. He needs to hitch a ride on an animal.
