

Qila is back home under the thick Arctic ice. Nanook is happy to be back home too. "This ice is nice," they say to their moms.

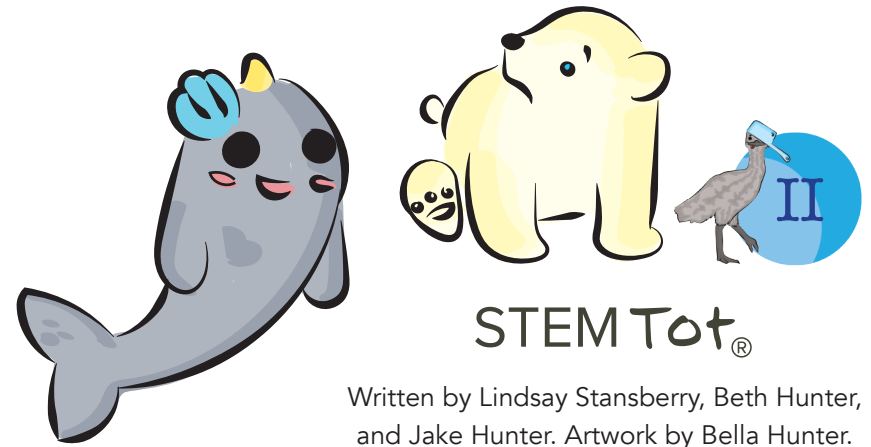

7

Qila lost her pod and was all alone. She heard a loud crack and a splash! Nanook fell into the icy sea. Orcas were near.

5

THIS ICE IS NICE

STEM Tot®

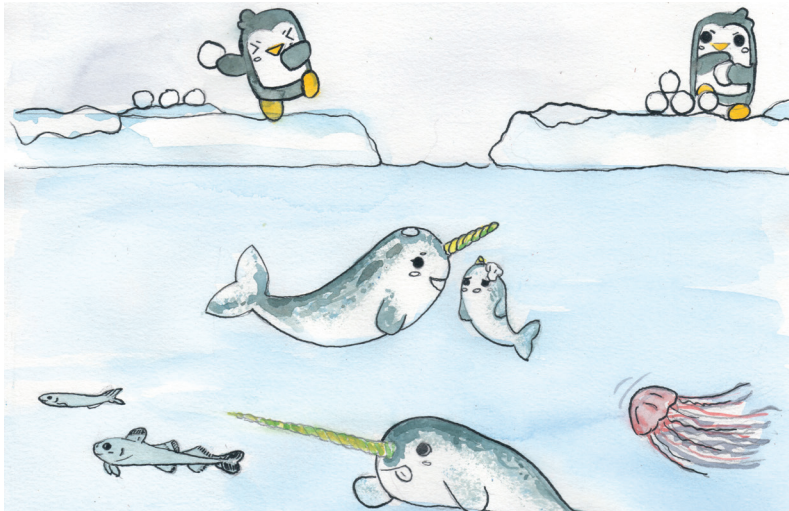

Written by Lindsay Stansberry, Beth Hunter, and Jake Hunter. Artwork by Bella Hunter.

Copyright STEM Taught MMXXIV

Nanook, a baby polar bear, loves his icy home. But, he wishes he had some dirt to dig in too.

2

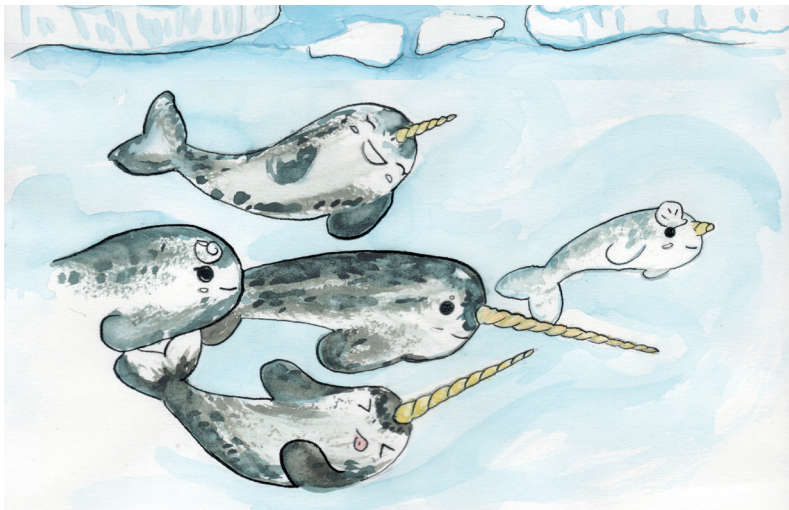

Qila, a baby narwhal, loves her arctic home. But, oh, how she wishes she could roam.

1

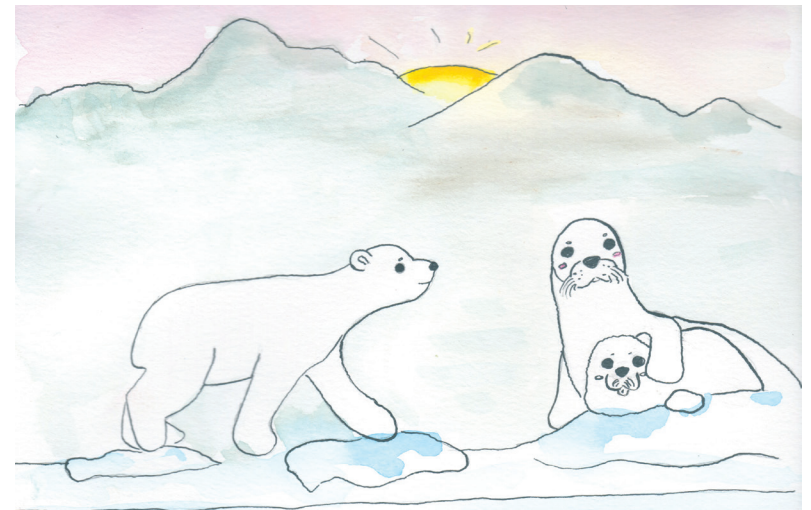

"I know what to do!" said Nanook. He gave Qila a big bear hug. His white fur looked like the ice and hid them from the orcas.

6

One day, Qila's pod swam far out to sea. With no thick ice, she finally felt free.

3

Nanook left home to find the edge of the ice. He walked and he walked.

4